BIG STEVE AND STACY STAR AS LOCALS WIN 2

West Liberty To Play 2nd Game With Eminence

Lank Steve Hamilton pulled an iron man stunt Sunday as he hurled West Liberty to a double victory in the Blue Grass League playoffs on the Beattyville diamond.

Hamilton, a 6-6 forward-center at Morehead college during the basket ball season, out dueled Guy Strong, Irvine, in the battle for second place in the eastern division in the curtain raiser, 3-1, and then got the best of lefty Paul Perry and Eminence in the first game of the playoff, 4-3.

Hamilton

In each game Hamilton trailed, but he and his teammates supplied the bat power to give the lanky lefthander the advantage he needed for victory.

Ritchie Stacy was the big bat star in the nightcap, driving in all four West Liberty runs with his two-run homer in the ninth, the game-deciding blow.

Eminence drew first blood in the series playoff with a single in the first frame. Dudley Caudill tripled, Merle Nickell walked and Stacy grounded out, scoring Caudill with the tying run in the third. Eminence went back on top with two in the sixth, but that guy Stacy cut it to a one-run lead (3-2) in the seventh when he slammed a triple high off the left-field wall, scoring Nickell, who had just doubled.

Eminence maintained that one-run lead until the last of the ninth when Nickell walked, stole second and rode home as Stacy slammed one over the left-field wall, scoring Nickell, who had just doubled.

Eminence maintained that one-run lead until the last of the ninth when Nickell walked, stole escond and rode home as Stacy slammed one over the left-field wall to ice the issue.

Stacy is an 18-year-old hard-hitting third baseman who recently was graduated from Morgan County high school.

In the battle for the right to meet Eminence, Irvine scored in the fourth on a passed ball, but Hamilton slammed a double off Guy Strong to start a rally which sent West Liberty hustling in front. It appeared for a while, however, that Hamilton's leadoff double would go down the drain as Strong fanned the next two batsmen. But Jerry Franklin doubled Hamilton home to tie it and Freddie Blair connected with a single to plate Franklin with what proved to be the winning run. West Liberty added an insurance run in the fifth, but Hamilton didn't need it as he stopped Irvine dead in its tracks.

Hamilton fanned a total of 13 in the "twin bill" while Strong whiffed five in the opener and Perry fanned seven in the nightcap.

Harrodsburg, champion of the Western Division, and Owingsville, the Eastern Division victor, were idle yesterday in the other playoff series. Harrodsburg won the opener last week, 15-1. All four playoff teams will be in action this week end when Harrodsburg plays at Owingsville and West Liberty at Eminence.

Low Nicotine Makes Morgan Burley Valuable, Farmers Told At Meeting

135 Farmers Hear Massie At Morgan Tobacco Field Day

The first annual extension service tobacco field day held on the farm of Glenn Lacy in Morgan county on Aug. 18 was attended by 135 people. Over a hundred tobacco farmers enjoyed a delicious chicken dinner served by the Morgan County homemakers under direction of Evelyn Sinclair, home demonstration agent. The dinner was paid for by the Mt. Sterling Tobacco Warehouse Association. Several farmers did not stay for lunch and others came for the afternoon session.

In the morning session County Agent Carl W. Sinclair discussed the colorful tobacco industry as it developed in Kentucky. He then introduced Ira Massie, University of Kentucky Extension Service Tobacco Specialist, who told the group that he took tobacco samples from the Glenn Lacy crop last year for a Morgan county sample. Nicotine tests run by the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. averaged around 2.57% nicotine on this sample from Morgan. State average is between 4½ to 5% which is too high for the modern cigarettes. Samples will be taken from Morgan county farms again this year, Mr. Massie said tobacco buyers have been riding with him in the state and they called the overall state crop the best in several years and they believe it to be a "smoker" crop. He said they were ready to buy ripe high quality tobacco from low nicotine sections of the burley tobacco belt.

Mr. Massie said flue cured tobacco contains only from 1 to 1% nicotine and manufacturers have been forced to put more of this in cigarettes than high nicotine burley. He said they want to use more burley but they must meet the demand for around a 2 to 2½% nicotine cigarettes to meet competition and public demand.

The tobacco companies have made the burley tobacco industry, and they know what kind of tobacco they want. The burley industry must meet their demand, he said, or they will continue to use more and more of another type of tobacco in the modern cigarette.

The group saw known low nicotine varieties in Ky. 58, Ky. 41A, Ky. 35, and Ky. WF12-53. Tenn. Burley was also observed by the group. Ky. WF12-53 and Tenn. Burley 21 are wildfire-resistant. The WF12-53 had the larger longer leaf and is a stand up type Mr. Massie said would be on the market next year.

Twenty-five Morgan farmers have Ky. WF12-53 on field tests for the county agent on their

MORGAN, ELLIOTT OAK TREES HIT BY WILT, IS REPORT

Oak wilt has spread into Morgan and Elliott counties, Gene Reynolds, district forester of the Kentucky Division of Forestry, reported this week.

Mr. Reynolds found two scarlet oak trees on the farm of Bill May at Woodsbend in Morgan county and two trees on the farm of Mrs. Prichard near Sandy Hook infected with the disease. The forester discovered the infected trees during a recent survery in this section to detect the presence of the disease.

The trees have been destroyed to prevent further spread of the disease.

This work was done by the Kentucky Division of Forestry, Virgil Lewis, Ranger of Morgan county, Gene Reynolds, Service Forester of Morgan county, and Rex McDowell, Forest Guard in Elliott county with assistance from Mr. May cut the trees and piled them up for burning. Burning is the only way known at present to control this disease. Mr. May said he would have a fox hunt while burning the trees. Burning is much safer in late afternoon and evening.

Oak wilt is caused by a fungus growing in a living oak tree. The fungus causes the leaves to wilt and fall off the tree prematurely. Samples of limb wood of suspect trees have to be sent to a laboratory for analysis to make certain the trees are infected with oak wilt.

These trees were spotted by the yellow color of the tree foliage during the early stages of the infection. This symptom usually appears during July and early August.

The chapter has over 112 members in the county and all the members and interested farmers are invited to attend the meeting, Albert Dorsey, president, said this week.

The continuing price squeeze confronting farmers as a result of lower farm prices and higher prices for manufactured items makes it of prime interest to farmers to support a farm organization that is fighting for legislation helpful to farmers. The National Farmers Union is the only farm organization that is fighting for rigid price support of farm products at 90% of parity, Mr. Dorsey said.

Elder Daniel Williams' squirrel rifle, powder horn and bullet pouch (shown here) will be on display at the unveiling of the D. A. R. marker at his grave at Caney Sept. 25. The rifle was traced to Bell County, Ky., where it was obtained from a descendent of Elder Daniel Williams by Dr. Charles B. Stacy of Pineville.

Other possessions of the Morgan church patriarch to be displayed at the Sept. 25th dedication will be Elder Williams' tin lantern now in the possession of a descendant in Morgan county, and Elder Williams' Bible now in the possession of one of his great great grandsons, a Bible that has been handed down by the youngest son to the youngest son for four generations. There also may be other items displayed such as early Baptist minutes, church records, etc.

The marker at Elder Williams' grave will be unveiled in a ceremony sponsored by the Morgan County D. A. R. Chapter. Dr. Claude M. McClure of Indianapolis, a great great grandson of the Baptist patriarch, will be master of ceremonies, Mrs. Ova Amyx, regent of the chapter, has announced. She said all persons taking part on the program will be direct descendents of Elder Williams. Mrs. C. K. Stacy will give a brief history of the patriarch's life.

Elder Daniel Williams came to Kentucky in 1775 with Daniel Boone. Later he fought in the Battle of Blue Licks. He was a Revolutionary War soldier in North Carolina. He emigrated to Morgan county in 1804 and built the first cabin on the site of West Liberty. He was a Baptist preacher and helped organize the Burning Springs Primitive Baptist Association in 1813 and served as its first moderator.

The following written history of the rifle has been preserved—

"This gun was made in Wilmington, North Carolina, in the year 1750 for the father of Daniel Williams.

"It was brought to Boonesborough, Ky. by Daniel Williams and used by him in the siege of Boonesborough and Blue Licks Springs. It was taken from there by him to West Liberty, Ky. where he founded the first settlement in what is now Morgan County, Ky.

"This gun descended from Daniel Williams to his son, Isaac Williams, and from him to his son- in-law, B. H. Hammond, who had the flint lock removed and eight inches of the barrel cut off in 1880, due to a crack in the barrel.

"B. H. Hammond gave the gun to his son, W. L. Hammond of Pineville, Ky., who is now the owner and possessor of it. The gun has been in this same family this entire time."

YOCUM—

VISITORS FETED AT A REUNION

YOCUM, Ky., Sept. 12—By Cassie Lewis—Saturday, September 10, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Lewis was the scene of an old time get-together or family reunion. This was to enable Mr. Lewis' grandmother, Mrs. Mary J. Ribison, and his mother, Mrs. Alma Higbee, to enjoy the last day of their vacation here with some of their relatives and friends.

When the kindred began to arrive with their lunch baskets, I'm sure Aunt Jane and Mrs. Higbee were reminded of the good old days when they too were living here in Kentucky and attended the old time family reunions and all day preaching and dinner on the ground, except this fine lunch wasn't spread on the ground but on the table for all to enjoy and it was delicious. There were so many kinds of salads, baked beans, ham, fried chicken, cottage cheese, pickles, sweet potatoes, cakes, cookies, cold drinks and even home-baked light bread. Everyone enjoyed the good food together and there remained enough for as many more. Everyone talked, some reminisced over old times, and this last far into the afternoon.

The following were present—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Higbee and Mrs. Mary Jane Robison of Lathrop, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Curt Jackson and daughter Linda Lu of Ezel, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cecil of Grassy Creek, Mrs. Nannie Lewis of Ashland, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Whitt of Wrigley, Iva Lee Stevens of Morehead, Mrs. Flotilla Lewis, Mrs. Wilma Jean Lewis and little son Billy Ray, Mrs. Cassie Lewis, Byron Scott Peyton, L. B. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Lewis, all of Yocum.

The group departed late after an enjoyable day, bidding the Higbees and Aunt Jane goodbye, as they were leaving Sunday for Lathrop, Missouri.

She was accompanied by her aunt, Maud Hord of West Liberty, Mrs. Mabel Barber of Licking River, Mrs. Gladys Bryant and two daughters of Middletown and Mrs. Jean Sheets of West Liberty.

MORGAN BURLEY

farms. The variety looks promising, but the way it cures out will be observed with interest. The five varieties were grown in individual rows and in blocks of several rows side by side on the Lacy farm. This tobacco will be housed by varieties and will be stripped out and a report will be made on the variety demonstration in Morgan county.

Massie stressed a rotation system for tobacco using two to three fields with a two-year rotation of red clover sod. Such a rotation was seen by the group on the Lacy farm. The group heard Mr. Lacy explain his fertilizer practice of 1,000 pounds of 5-10-15 per acre and he followed the soil test recommendations of the county agent. The group saw an outstanding field of tobacco of excellent size and quality. He is using his manure on his corn land, he said. Massie explained that a soil test took in a complete three year history of the use and fertilizer practices of the land. Soil tests are recommended by the University of Kentucky and measure the acidity of soil, phosphorus and potash content.

Farmers are urged to use a complete fertilizer on tobacco with a cover crop and to use manure and stalks on corn land or pasture. The farmer should buy all the fertilizer and lime he can for recommendations on building pasture land for a nice income from livestock. The group saw this as evidence by Mr. Lacy's registered Hereford herd. Mr. Lacy is enrolled in the Extension Service Farm and Home Development as a family farm unit of approach made by the county and home agent.

The group saw a priming demonstration and they saw 800 primed sticks of tobacco that will mean for him in the season several hundred pounds of tobacco that would have been lost. This is highest price tobacco too. He told the group he primed early. In the flue cured belt every leaf is harvested that way. In burley only four or seven leaves usually need to be pulled before cutting. This gives high quality as it saved the bottom while letting the top make smoking tobacco instead of red leaf.

Coiza Helton on Wells Hill told the agent that he had fine primed tobacco from his crop. Primed tobacco must be hung by itself and not put under or above leaf in the curing process, after primed leaf is completely cured it should be graded, tied in hands and hung back up in the rail on sticks, Massie said.

Figures show that $200 to $300 additional income per acre can be made by priming.

In the afternoon session Berlyn Brown of the Soil Conservation Service explained what irrigation could mean to the value of a tobacco crop. Irrigation was needed by many Morgan farmers, this year, he poined out.

Gay Blair of Farmer's Home Administration told the group that his agency could make long term loans to farmers for ponds for this purpose. Other agencies were represented by Paul Shipley, assistant vocational agricultural teacher in Morgan County high school; Dillard Murphy, County ASC chairman, Bradford Thomas, assistant in the Soil Conservation Service; Prichard Caskey, Farmer's Home Administration, and Albert Dorsey, vocational agricultural teacher, Ezel.

In the afternoon a panel discussion led by Massie and participated in by Albert Dorsey, Estes Gunnell, E. A. Cecil, Mort Walters, a 4-H champion, Robert J. Adkins, and Hager Ray told the group about practices they use in tobacco management and production.

The group seemed to enjoy the day. Special guests representing each tobacco warehouse in Mt. Sterling were present and praised the tobacco producted by many Morgan county growers.

The group also observed the plowing under of old tobacco beds. Then sowing from six to fifteen pounds of soybeans on 9x100 feet of bed is recommended.

He taught at Adele and Cannel City 12 years, and was coach at Cannel City seven years and assistant coach and teacher at West Liberty two years. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, taught in the rural schools and is now teaching in West Liberty.

Anderson said: "I hope to have the cooperation of parents, teachers and pupils in making the attendance the best the county has ever had. Under the law it is necessary to have every child in school every day when there is not a legal reason for absence. This is not only the law, but the funds received from the state are largely based on attendance. I hope it will not be necessary to have parents brought into court or fined for their children being absent from school."

It's free for all who call. Reader, won't you put in your call now.

McKENZIE AT QUARTERBACK

Donald McKenzie, 5 foot-10, 170 pound senior from West Liberty, will start as quarterback with the Morehead College Eagles Thursday night of this week when they kick off the 1955 Kentucky intercollegiate football season against the University of Kentucky freshmen at Morehead. The West Liberty senior is captain of the team.

Mrs. Woodrow Stamper and Barbara and Billie Joe and Mary Jo Stamper and Carol Stamper spent Sunday at Carter Caves State Park.

MILLION DOLLAR INCOME POSSIBLE FROM LIVESTOCK

The farmer has alternatives in livestock production, but Morgan County could easily realize an increase of a one million dollar income from the Kentucky cow and calf plan, registered beef cattle, dairing and sheep.

Morgan County could easily have a $200,000 income from sheep without disturbing the cattle industry and at the same time increase cattle numbers. Increased use of lime and fertilizer and a little fencing could make a one million dollar or more increase in livestock returns a reality in "The Bluegrass County of the Mountains."

The following farmers have recently purchased yearling Western ewes or Western lambs—E. A. Cecil, Mize, 15 head and a registered ram. Hager Ray 15 head and one registered Southdown ram making him a 42 ewe flock. John Cundiff, 36 head and two Southdown rams, Sam D. Cecil and son Albert, 60 head and two registered Hampshire rams making them a 93 head flock, C. A. Fugate 15 head making him a 36 ewe flock.

All of these farmers have herds of beef cattle and will keep the same number.

The Government through the ASC office has an incentive payment on wool and farmers recently voted to be set aside for advertising lamb and wool products.

Morgan County club members plan to raise, fit and show lambs in the 4-H Bluegrass fat lamb show and sale next year, according to County Agent Carl Sinclair.

Cows for cow and calf plan should be bought now; they should be bought with the idea of early calving in December, January or February. University of Kentucky tests show that the higher milking cow such as the Jersey cross with 50% or more dairy blood and bred to registered beef bulls will produce a calf off the teat at 600-750 pounds. This is about a $100 calf.

Good pasture, early calving, registered sire, 50% or more dairy blood in cows, bang's testing, creep feeding of corn to calves are important factors in successful milk and grass fat calf production.

A cheap, bumper corn crop is in prospect this year, and with lower hog prices farmers will be feeding out or looking for 400-450 pound beef blood calves. Feeders can find a good supply of both outstanding Angus and Hereford calves in Morgan county. Farmers should buy bull calves now. And Morgan County registered breeders have one of the best quality calf crops the agent has seen. Buy that registered bull at a resonable price from good clean herds in Morgan County now! for use next year.

Milk companines want grade A milk. Several Morgan farmers are considering dairy herds.

SCHOOL VISITS

By BERNARD E. WHITT

When I visited Ditony school Tuesday, 23 children had enrolled and all were present. Mrs. Beulah Gibson, teacher, said so far as she knew only one boy was absent. The family of Lonus Lewis moved to Clearfield. Mrs. Gibson said repairs were needed on doors to school and that they have to get water from a neighbor's well. There is an excellent open well at the school which she said would be good if the well was cleaned out and chlorinated lime used and water tested. The school is sponsored by the SCF, and their money was received too late last year but can be used this year. She has 92 college hours and is interested in continuing her college to make a degree. She taught in Perry county before her father, Fred Standafer, came to Morgan. She taught this school last year. The school bus comes to school and takes children to Wrigley. School is 13 miles from West Liberty and two miles from Yocum Falls.
